GREGORY ROBERTS

FULL STACK WEB DEVELOPER

A current student of UNCC Full Stack Web Development Coding BootCamp with experience in JavaScript, JQuery, Express, NodeJS, MySQL, Model-View-Controller, API's and more with a current background in Business Finance and Corporate Risk. I received a Bachelor's Degree in Business Finance from North Carolina A&T State University. Learning all the information I have within the coding program is what has intrigued me in how I can develop my own programs through web development and app development to help other people as well as companies to better assist their needs. I seek a role as a full-stack web developer where I can grow, learn and contribute as much as possible to my place of employment.
